

leave my satellite radio alone!!!!!!! do something worth while like regulate credit card interest. help people do not take what little pleasures we have in life away or regulate them or raise the prices of them to point we can not even afford them. do something that helps us, stop messing with things that do not even affect you. i live in an area where tv and radio reception are terrible. without satellite tv and radio i would not be able to listen to or see many stations.